

RECRUITING FOR NAVY GOES WELL

Officers Aboard St. Louis Say
Progress Here is Quite Up to Expectations

Since the call of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels appealing for new recruits for the United States navy was published in the Star-Bulletin Monday about a dozen men have enlisted, according to officers of the U. S. S. St. Louis' recruiting station today.

When the population of Honolulu is considered this is equal to 400 or 500 men in a city the size of New York. The St. Louis' executive officer said today he is ready to talk to applicants at any time aboard the cruiser, at Navy Pier No. 2, Allen street.

"We are very anxious to get all the recruits we can," said the executive officer of the St. Louis this morning. "We received practically the same message from Secretary Daniels that both papers printed."

"The requirements for enlistment are that applicants must be American citizens, by birth or naturalization, must be between 18 and 35 years of age (if 17 consent of parent or guardian must be secured) and must be able to read, write and speak English."

"Hawaiians must have certificates of birth in the territory or present satisfactory evidence that they were born in the islands."

"Unless applicants are qualified in any trade or are of seagoing profession we will ship them only as apprentice seamen, for transfer to San Francisco (Goat Island Naval Training Station) by the first available transport for further training. The pay of apprentice seamen is $17.60 a month and found."

"We are particularly anxious to ship mechanics—electricians or machinists—who can by examination given on board the ship show that they have at least the fundamentals of their trade. Without seagoing experience such recruits will receive $44 a month and found. With one year's seagoing experience the pay is $60 a month."

"All men enlisted are at once credited on their accounts with a $60 clothing order, which is almost always considerably in excess of what is necessary for them to draw."

"Another class of recruits we are anxious to obtain is that of firemen. Any applicants of 21 to 30 years of age, of robust physique, can be signed on as firemen third class, at $24.20 a month with good chances for promotion to second and first class. All applicants as firemen do not require training at the naval station. This is an excellent chance for men with training in coal trimming and stevedoring to join the navy."

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, March 23.—Upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of Company L, 2d Infantry, the following appointments are made in that organization: Pvt. 1st Class Emmitt A. Roach to the grade of corporal, to fill vacancy which existed by Sprock being promoted. Pvt. 1st Class David R. Downen to the grade of corporal vice Stuard, reduced. They will be respected and obeyed accordingly.

The following men now in the Department Hospital, Fort Shafter, are ordered to the Letterman Hospital at Presidio, California: Sgt. Thomas E. Stephens, Company A, 2d Infantry; Pvt. Leroy Le-Lapse, Co. K, 2d Infantry; and Pvt. Alexander Ponomarenko, Co. L, 2d Infantry. The company commanders will see that the above men get their personal belongings ready, as they will leave on the next transport, which will sail about April 5.

First Lieut. Samuel J. Heidner, who has recently arrived at this post, has been assigned to Company M, 2d Infantry, and 1st Lieut. William H. Jones has been assigned to Company L, 2d Infantry.

Sgt. Lawrence W. Fagg, Sgt. William C. Hanna and Sgt. James M. Palmer, all of the Medical Department, have received notice from Washington that they have been appointed second lieutenants, and are receiving the congratulations of their friends.

George W. Titus, civilian, 511 Stangenwald building, Honolulu, was appointed to the grade of second lieutenant, infantry, March 22.

Among the men appointed as second lieutenants from the 3d Regiment Engineers, Company D, Fort Shafter, was Cpl. John O. Hoskins, and from Company C, 3d Regiment Engineers, Cpl. Frank P. Touhy and Pvt. 1st Class Maury Mann were the fortunate ones to receive appointments as second lieutenants dating from March 19, 1917.

Pvt. Michael Sebastian, Machine Gun Company, 2d Infantry, now at the Letterman General Hospital, Presidio of San Francisco, Cal., is transferred to the 16th Infantry, and will be sent to El Paso, Texas, for assignment to a company in that regiment.

Upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of Company C, 2d Infantry, the following appointment is made in that organization: Pvt. 1st Class James J. Quinn, to the grade of corporal, vice Cpl. Stevens, furloughed to the army reserve.

The company commander of Company D, 2d Infantry, has recommended the following promotions and appointments:

JARRETT FINDS SOME CONVICTS DO GOOD WORK

High Sheriff Thinks Some Pay
Would Stimulate to Still Better Efforts

Sidelights on the territorial prison investigation flashed up last night during a meeting of the ways and means committee, called to discuss the proposed prison appropriation with High Sheriff William Jarrett.

"Chillingworth swung the discussion to the construction work on the building and repeated his assertion made in the senate last week that contract work would have proved a saving. He compared the cost of additional hired labor with that at Schofield Barracks. 'You can't compare those two jobs,' Quinn interposed. 'The Schofield job is a different matter and is no criterion to go by.'"

Quinn lapsed to silence and Shingle began questioning him. "Do you think it has been a success?" asked Shingle. "I prefer not to answer on my views until the proper time," replied Quinn. "I am under fire on this proposition and what statements I have will go to the committee at the proper time."

Shingle, who is an old newspaperman, tried another method. "Suppose," he said, "that you were erecting an office building down town. What would you do personally, get contract or hired labor?"

"Contract every time, sure," Quinn answered hot off the bat. "But no contractor in town would give you the job you've got out there at that building. There were plans and specifications for it but they were not properly drawn. The work had to be altered as it went along."

Sheriff Jarrett stated that there have been an average of 60 prisoners working on the structure since it started.

Jarrett also suggested his plan of compensating prisoners for work they do, giving them very small allowances when they show their worth. It would boost the value of the work 100 per cent, he said.

"Right out at the prison we have prisoners working alongside expert mechanics," said Jarrett, "and doing as good work. It is discouraging to

NEW DISCOVERIES MADE AT VOLCANO

Word has been received from the Volcano of Kilauea that the lava lake is rising again at a rapid pace, and has already reached a point sufficiently high for resumption of the series of daring experiments which were commenced in January last. Several descents into the fire-pit have been made by Professor Jaggar and assistants and some remarkable discoveries are being added to the already long list of scientific wonders which has been furnished by Halemauau.

Among the more important of these is a presumably clear proof that there is a direct connection between Kilauea and Mauna Loa. This has long been surmised, but the appearance of a new island in the lake with a base composed of the type of lava ejected from Mauna Loa during the great eruption of May last year, a type entirely foreign to the lake lavas in Halemauau, points to the connection already alluded to, and a special series of tests will be made in support of this assumption. It is anticipated that the series of personally conducted tours to the volcano, which leave Honolulu on Saturdays, and of which full details are always to be found in the advertising columns will be still more widely patronized than before, as visitors appreciate the advantage of seeing the volcano under the guidance of one who is thoroughly familiar with its many phases and points of interest.

MEXICANS ROB PROSPECTOR AND BURY HIM WHILE ALIVE

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Buried alive by two treacherous Mexicans who thought they had killed him when robbing him of his last $3, Chris Rasmussen, a prospector, dug himself out of his shallow grave four hours afterward and staggered into Crown King, miles away.

Armed posses are searching Crown King hills for the two thieves. Rasmussen, in company with the two Mexicans, was on a prospecting tour of the mountains. Miles away from any camp, the Mexicans suddenly attacked Rasmussen and beat him insensible. Then they buried him and fled.

UNIFORMS LATER FOR PUN. CADETS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
OAHU COLLEGE, March 23.—At a recent meeting of the trustees of the Oahu College it was decided to postpone the purchasing of new uniforms for the cadets until the next fall term. At that time it is hoped Punahou may have a regularly detailed army officer and a non-commissioned officer, and regular standard equipment, such as the government issues for use of those schools willing to follow the course of study prescribed by the secretary of war.

ARNOLD REPRIMAND FOR USING STRONG LANGUAGE

Supervisor Arnold said "damn" several times Tuesday evening and on each occasion was severely reprimanded by Mayor Lane.

The first time he got "hot under the collar" because Larsen declared that the road department got stuck on its asphalt deal when it paid $19 a ton. Larsen said it could be purchased at San Francisco for $9 a ton and with the freight at about $6 it should have only cost the city $15.

"The city called for bids which were much higher than $19," answered Arnold. "The coast company did not bid and therefore if we had not ordered the asphalt under the old contract we would have had to pay a great deal more. You see, therefore, that the city was not stuck a damn bit."

The other occasions were when he was arguing with Hollinger over the budget. Finally Logan suggested that if Arnold wanted to say something real bad he might use the term "reservoir No. 4."

STINGY HUSBAND'S POCKETS HELD FAIR GAME FOR WIFE

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A wife whose husband withholds a sufficient allowance on payday, has a perfect right, according to a decision by Magistrate Cornell of the New York court of domestic relations, to go thru his pockets when he is asleep.

Mrs. Samuel Kell testified in court that her husband's weekly wage was but $15, but that for nine years he has given her but $4 or $5 a week to run the house and care for their two children.

Last Friday night, she said, she took $17 from her husband's trousers pocket while he slept. Then Kell sewed up his pockets and took his
